

RESEARCH OPPORTUNITY FOR TUBEROUS SCLEROSIS PATIENTS AND CAREGIVERS

RECEIVE AN HONORARIUM FOR YOUR FEEDBACK

A major pharmaceutical manufacturer has commissioned market research to understand the unique experiences of TSC patients and their caregivers.

Your participation in this project will help to expand on new treatments, as well as enhance awareness and improve education about TSC.

Flince Research + Design, an independent healthcare research and consulting firm located in the U.S., has been engaged to conduct these research interviews on pharmaceutical manufacturer's behalf.

The research project consists of a 2-3 hour in person interview, followed by a 5-day video diary and concluding with a 45-minute follow-up phone call.

To qualify, you / your loved one must be diagnosed with epilepsy associated with TSC, and must currently take AFINITOR or have taken AFINITOR in the past.

You will not be asked to prepare for this interview in any way, and research will be conducted in strict accordance with all pertinent privacy laws and regulations. Participants will be able to withdraw their consent to participate at any point throughout the research process. Your participation will remain completely confidential.

In appreciation of your time and valuable contribution, you will receive an honorarium of $350 payable upon successful completion of the research project.
